NOTICE TO INTERESTED PARTIES

Release Date: November 18, 2009

To Interested Parties:

The Lake George Park Commission will not be taking any action on the proposed Stream Corridor Protection Regulations when it meets November 24, 2009. Work on the rule-making is progressing. However, the Commission has not completed the analysis and documents to support the rule-making that are required by the State Administrative Procedure Act. The Commission is extending the schedule on a month to month basis expecting that action to advance the regulations will occur within a month or two.

The Commission will next consider whether to formally propose the regulations. Such an action would resume a formal period of public comments and hearings. The Commission has previously announced that it will consider comments received at anytime and will incorporate and respond to these as part of the rule-making.

There have been no revisions to the draft regulations since the Commission completed work in June 2009 on a Generic Environmental Impact Statement.

The draft regulations and the Generic Environmental Impact Statement can be viewed and downloaded from the Commission's website www.lgpc.state.ny.us.
